about the project

Craftmaker of Tomorrow is a initiative that empowers emerging craft makers with an entrepreneurial mindset to enhance their creative practices. Running from April 4th to 13th, this 10-day project provides an immersive experience that integrates hands-on craft workshops with interactive sessions exploring innovative strategies for creative promotion, branding, and collaboration—with focus of turning passion into a business. Participants will engage in cross-cultural dialogue and collaborative learning that enriches their craft skills while fostering an entrepreneurial approach to creative expression. Fully aligned with the core principles of the Erasmus+ programme, the initiative promotes skill development, international cooperation, and the exchange of best practices, culminating in the creation of a comprehensive guide designed to inspire and support future craft makers.

Participants:

15 youngsters(13-17 years old) interested in the topic of the project, accompanied by 2 leaders(over 20 years of age).

The goal of the organization is to promote artists who, through their talents, dedication to developing their skills and craft, serve as an example to others.

They inspire, teach, and demonstrate how to navigate the path of learning, self-education, and brand building, leading to undeniable success in their fields of creativity. The organization brings together individuals involved in handicrafts from the Mazovia region. It supports local artists by organizing technical workshops, promoting their work, and providing individualized support based on their needs.
